THE TWO 1939 NURBURGRING AUTO RACES

- Irwin Bloomfield -

Many of my fellow "sports collectors" may have wondered, as I did, why Landmans Sport Catalog shows only one special cancellation, viz; the "Eifel Rennen", for the German Nurburgring automobile races issue of May 18, 1939 (Scott B141-43), when I had two covers for this set with two different special cancellations. Upon further investigation, I found that the results of the race given by Landmans, on page 304 of the third edition (1960), is not the Eifel Rennen auto race, but that these results are for the other race -- the Grosser Preis von Deutschland fur Rennwagen -- the second special cancellation mentioned above.

To set the record straight it is worthwhile to state the correct facts. The Nurburgring road stretch is one of the most ideal auto race tracks of Europe, and was dedicated on July 7, 1927.

On February 16, 1939, to commemorate the International Automobile Exhibition, Berlin, there was issued 3 semi-postal stamps, designed by a famous German artist, Erich Meerwald. The 6 + 4 pf. dark green denomination depicts the first auto built by Daimler & Benz. A 12 + 8 pf. red stamp, interesting for the sportsman, depicts the Auto Union racing car and the 1938 Mercedes-Benz model. A Volkswagen is shown for the first time on the third stamp, 25 + 10 pf., dark blue color. An interesting cancellation, depicting the exhibition hall, two racing cars, and the map of Europe, was used for this issue. On May 18, 1939, the foregoing series received a black overprint, "NURBURGRING RENNEN" in gothic letters, in a limited edition of only 300,000 sets.

It is these two Nurburgring auto races which I wish to clarify. On May 21, 1939, the "Eifel" race was held under the sponsorship of the O. N. S. (Oberste Nationale Sportbehörde -- Supreme National Sports Authority). This race was won by Herman Lang, driving a Mercedes-Benz racing car. Lang drove the ten laps, a total of 144 miles, in one hour, 40 minutes, 57.1 seconds.

The second auto race, the "Grosser Preis von Deutschland," took place some two months later, on July 23, 1939. This race was won by the renowned Rudolf Carraciola, who averaged 76.4 miles per hour (121 km/hr) over this torturous race course, in his Mercedes-Benz. This was the sixth time that Carraciola had won this famous race!

Second place in this race was won by Herman Mueller in an Auto-Union, and the third place was taken by Pietsch in a Maserate. Dreyfuss won fourth place in his Delahaye.

At the left are illustrated the two special cancellations issued for these two races. The front page has an illustration of the start of the 2-liter sport-car race, in the 1938 Grosser Preis von Deutschland.

The Nurburgring was constructed in the period immediately following World War I, when roads were built to combat unemployment. This circuit is something like fourteen miles around. It is an artificial circuit, but its great length, coupled with the narrow width of the road, give it the very impression of being a normal highway into the German mountains.

The reader must understand that the Nurburgring is not a normal racetrack, but a special raceway constructed in the Eifel district of Western Germany, between the Rhine and Moselle Rivers, and the frontier of Luxemburg. The region is very hilly, with elevations of 2,000 feet above sea level, and with very picturesque scenery. This topographical feature enabled the Germans to create a raceway which abounds in one very sharp corner after another, while the roadway (at the same time) climbs and descends a number of hills. This combination of inclines and declines, combined with an endless array of sharp hills, has created a raceway which is impossible for any driver to memorize, and it puts any vehicle driven over it to extreme tests. During the off-season, ordinary vehicles may be driven over the road for a fee.

The surface of the Nurburgring is infamous, and causes many upsets each year. So far as spectators are concerned, the length of the Ring causes the vehicles to be seen only infrequently. Many spectators prefer to watch the race from the more exciting corners --- rather than the grand stands. One such corner is the Karussell, where there is a concrete ditch which the more enterprising drivers navigate, instead of using the roadway!

The Nurburgring is sometimes referred to as the German Grand Prix, instead of the Grosser Preis von Deutschland.

By now our country's first Christmas stamp is quite routine on first class mail and the commercial aspects of our most special holiday have long since palled on those of us who feel that the real significance of Christmas has been lost. Truly, Christmas is almost upon us! The directors and key workers of SPI wish all our members the merriest of Christmas seasons and the happiest of New Years (full of delightful sports collecting joys).

In the lighter vein, we offer the following Christmas want-lists:

- Jack Bloom -- several more steady advertising accounts
- Bill Brecht -- better cooperation by the Post Office Department on Third Class mailings (JSP)
- Ron Collins -- more outstanding activities to be publicized in the philatelic press
- Fred Farr -- a whole sack of high quality articles for immediate use in JSP
- Jeff Kawashima and Larry McMillan -- more prompt and accurate reporting of changes of address of members
- Ira Seebacher -- better cooperation on corrections and additions to his hand-book material
- Bill Stoms -- five hundred attractive lots, including a reasonable number of donations, for our Spring Auction
- Bob Bruce and his Membership Committees -- five hundred active, contributing members for SPI

Now back to serious matters. Editor Fred Farr is again involved in graduate work and intern teaching at Columbia University and is not able to devote to JSP the time which he had anticipated. To continue the high quality product evident in the first four issues, he must have a steady flow of good articles. He cannot continue preparing, from scratch, the majority of the material. Not only JSP's quality, but possibly its very life under Fred, is at stake. All of us are busy, but no one cannot spare enough time to prepare something useful to Fred. After all, it is our publication, not only his.

I regret that the advance announcement on our Spring Auction did not "make" the November issue of JSP. Look for it in this issue. Here is the opportunity to dispose of duplicates profitably, and to pick up more desirable items for one's collection.

The directors regret to announce the death of Carl Medlock in early October. His collection was advertised for sale in the October issue of JSP. Since his heirs wish to dispose of the collection, the offer is still open. If any of you are interested, please take action now.

Once again, Happy Holidays!

/s/ "Bob"

Sports Collectors of Southern California: Elections dominated the October meeting, at which Larry McMillan was re-elected as president, Jack Bloom was elected Vice President and Ayne Bloom was re-elected as Secretary-Treasurer. Frames were set up for SESCOAL 1962, the contents of which were contributed from various members' collections. A member was designated to write an article for the special issue of Linn's, January 29, 1963, which is devoted to SPI. Some 38 members attended this meeting, and sales books were avidly examined by everyone.

The November meeting was held on the twelfth at Helms Hall, with two visitors from the Philippines. Plans were made for participation in the Sports, Vacation and Travel Show which will be held in March, 1963. Emil W. Breitreutz, member of SCOSC, has been elected National President of the Olympians -- a rare honor! A very successful auction was held, and Bill Schroeder was honored with a surprise birthday party.

Sports Stamp Study Circle of New York: The October meeting was sparked by the presence of Donald Kerr of Toronto, Canada, who spoke about philatelic forgeries of all kinds, especially those produced by Jean Sperati and Francois Fournier, the two master forgers of this century. Mr. Kerr, a guest of the chapter, displayed a number of these forgeries as illustrative material.

The program for the November meeting was prepared by the indefatigable Ira Seebacher, consisting of the display of album pages, supplemented by a running commentary. Ira recently distinguished himself by winning silver medals recently for his pages of sports airmails exhibited at LUPOSTA in West Germany and SEPAD at Philadelphia. Ira capped his triumphs by being elected President of Aero Philatelists, Inc., the leading society for collectors of all phases of aero philately!

Sports Philatelists of the Philippines: No grass grows under the feet of these boys! This group can think up things faster than a computer can operate! They've done it again; this time it's the "First National Sports Philatelic Exhibition" (NASPEX), an exhibit of sports stamps from all over the world. The exhibition was held on the main floor of the Manila Post Office Building, from December 8 to 14, and was designed to promote both philately in general and sports philately in particular.

This exhibition coincided with the Fourth World Basketball Championships, the World Conference on Physical Education, the Sixth Asian Table Tennis Championships, and the AFP "Little Olympics" -- all of which will be held in Manila during the month of December! Luckily enough, this group has the Postmaster General on their side; a special sport slogan cancellation will be used on all philatelic mail for the duration of the NASPEX display. Here in the States, all we can get our PMG to do is to print some stamps upside down (and they're not sports stamps, either). Prizes for the NASPEX show are being donated by their prominent member, Don Manolo Elizalde.

Start increasing your stamp budget NOW! With all of 1963 left and most of 1964, you can bet your bottom dollar that there will be plenty of stamps for everyone, and too many for most in the coming days .... for the Olympic Games are coming!

Despite "black blot" campaigns and despite anti-sports articles disparaging the intents and accomplishments of the Olympic Movement, we predict that the 1964 Olympics will see more philatelic emissions than any other Olympiad. ALBANIA has already issued a set of five stamps to publicize the Olympic Games of 1964! Japan has just released its third threesome with many others to follow. And this is still 1962!!!

The Organizing Committees for the Games are busily engaged in the finalizing of plans for this Olympiad. At the present time, most of the efforts are directed toward publicity, which will result in the greatest attendance ever to accompany an Olympiad. The first step was the creation of a poster for world-wide distribution. At the upper right is illustrated the poster created by Yusaka Kamekura, and below are some of the 40 designs submitted in the contest to select the official emblem. These examples are taken from the publication, TOKYO INVITES ..., a beautiful brochure published by the Japanese Organizing Committee.

Note: the following article is the conclusion of the series on the Sokol Games which was inaugurated in the September issue.

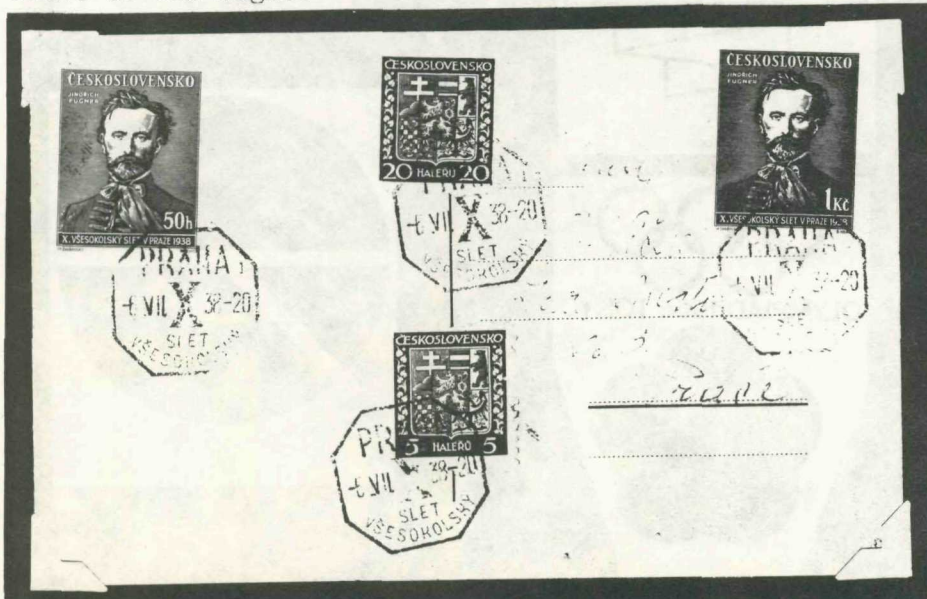

At the left is one value of the four-stamp set issued on March 16, 1932, honoring the IX Sokol Games and the centenary of the birth of Miroslav Tyrš. A 60h violet stamp, in the same design but smaller format, was issued on February 1, 1933, as a definitive stamp. The 4-stamp set was on general sale for almost one year, and every post office in Czechoslovakia received supplies of this set.

The Tenth International Winter Sokol Games were commemorated by a set of two stamps, as illustrated at the left. These stamps were issued on January 25, 1938, in an edition of 6,270,000 of each value. Each sheet of 112 subjects contains 100 stamps and 12 tabs, each tab depicting crossed skis, a twig of cedar, and an inscription denoting the occasion for their issuance. These games were held between February 6th and 13th, 1938.

Illustrated above, at the left, is a commemorative card honoring the Ninth Slet, held at Praha from June 12 to July 6, 1932. The commemorative cancellation used in honor of the Tenth International Sokol Games is clearly shown on the card illustrated above at the right.

The Tenth Sokol Summer Games, held at Prague in 1938, were honored with a set of three stamps in the design on the cover illustrated at the left. Note the octagonal cancellation used in honor of these games. Once again, the stamps were issued in sheets of 112 subjects, with 100 stamps and 12 tabs.

There were more special cards, covers and cancellations for the Xth Slet than for any of the others -- the author has over forty different cacheted cards for this event, and he has been informed that others exist!

For the Eleventh Sokol Congress, a set of three stamps was issued on March 7, 1948, employing an allegorical design depicting "Czechoslovakia" greeting Sokol members, as illustrated above. Note the Falcon emblem at the bottom of the bouquet depicted on the tabs. A total of four million sets were issued, in sheets of 112 subjects (100 stamps and 12 tabs). A postal card of 1.50 K. face value was also issued.

On June 3, 1948, Czechoslovakia issued a second set honoring the Eleventh Sokol Games and Congress. This time, the two leaders of the Sokol Movement were depicted; Dr. Josef Scheiner and Dr. Jindrich Vanicek. As usual, these stamps were issued in sheets of 112 subjects (100 stamps & 12 tabs). I note that the Michel Catalog and the Seebacher Handbook state that 1,100,000 sets exist ---- but Landmans' Catalog gives the figure as 900,000 sets, and Sport und Briefmarken says 1,000,000 sets!

On February 15, 1950, a three-stamp set was issued for the Tatra Cup Ski Championships, and the 3 K. value depicted the Tyrs Efficiency Badge. This time, there were no pictorial tabs to accompany the stamps, although two different pictorial cancellations were put in use to commemorate this event. A quantity of 1,200,000 of the 3 K. were printed.

The Ninth Congress of the Czechoslovak Sokol Federation was held in Prague, June 7 to 10, 1951. A set of four stamps was issued on June 21, three values of which depicted the Tyrs Efficiency Emblem, but the 1.50 K value omits this symbol! We presume that the reason for this is that this particular stamp depicts Nina Dumbadze, then holder of the women's world record for throwing the discus -- it would be singularly inappropriate to include the Czech emblem on a stamp depicting Miss Dumbadze, a citizen of the Soviet Union. Does anyone have a better explanation?

SPI members desiring to collect and research the Sokol Games as a separate unit of their collecting activities will have a field day in cancellations and fringe items as well as a nice representation of stamps and covers. They will also be intrigued by their study of the Sokol Movement, as distinguished from the Games. The Games were the sports manifestation of a great political movement; a physical culture aspect initiated by Miroslav Tyrs to capture the imagination of a despairing Czech nation and to draw its people together.

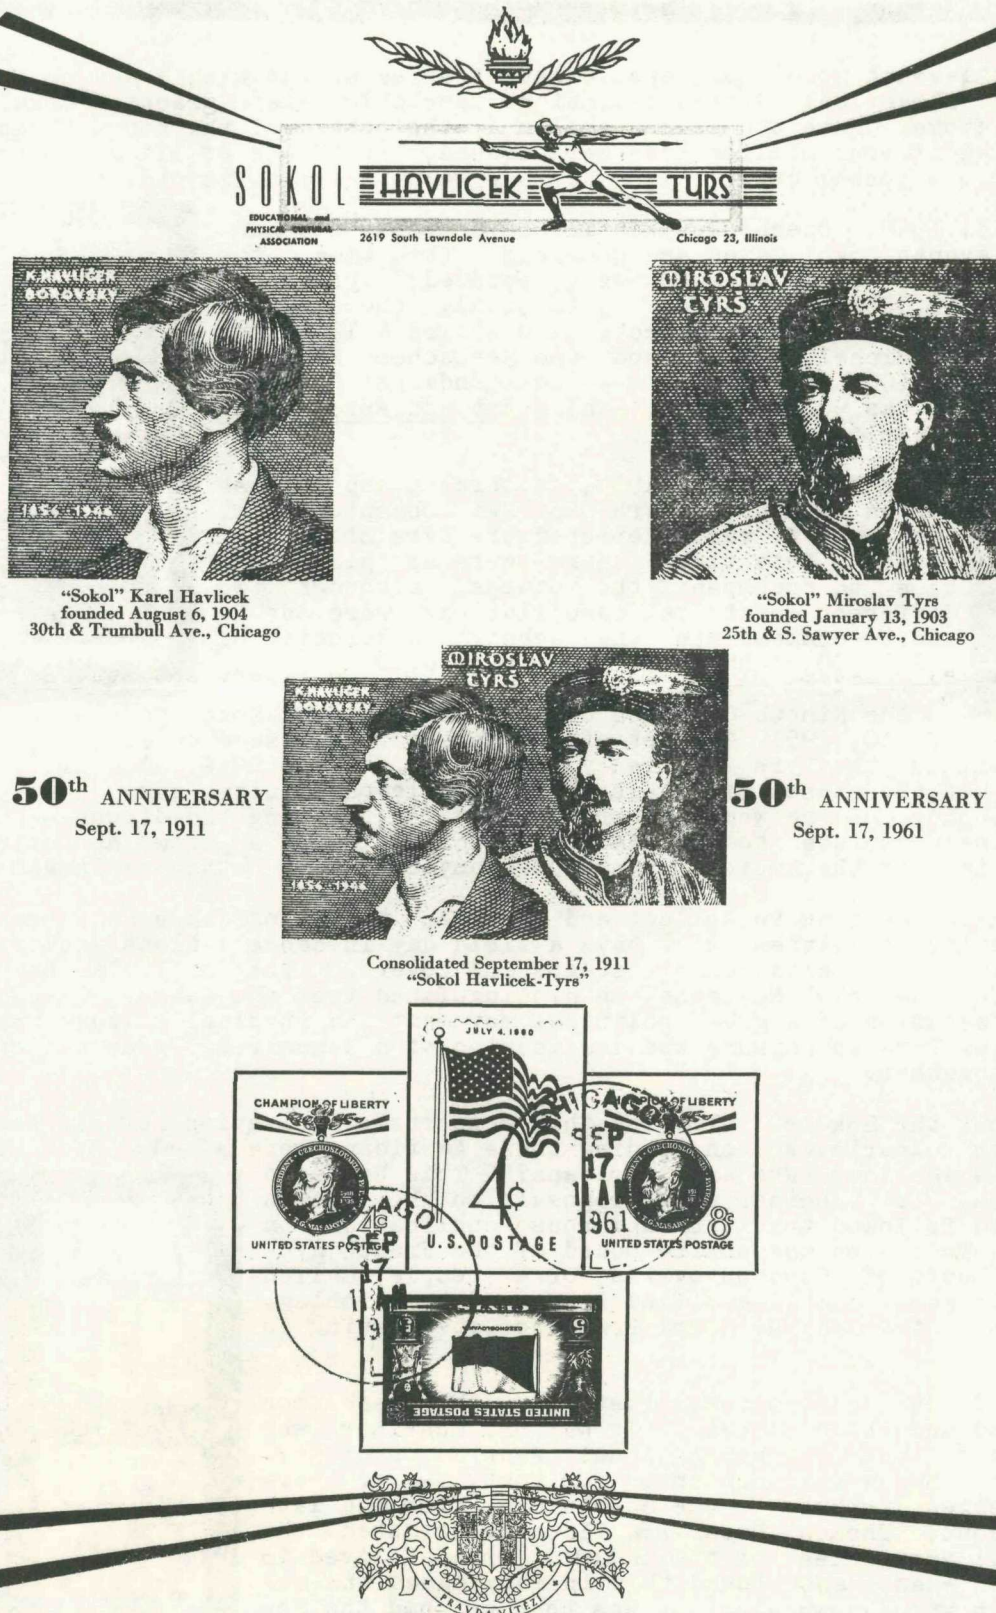

What about the Sokols? Imagine that a sports organization here in America sent a group over to Bulgaria, and on landing these Americans were asked: "You are from America? What is America? Who are Americans?" This happened to the Czechs. Dr. Scheiner sent proposals to the French in 1888, and followed that with numerous publications on gymnastics. No one on the entire board of the French gymnasts ever heard of Czechoslovakia or a people called Czechs! A language dictionary finally solved the problem, and the French invited the Sokol Praha to its meeting in 1889.

At this first international festival, the Czechs won first, second and third places. It was Dr. Scheiner who led the Sokols into the International Federation of Gymnasts, where they were represented for forty years. Perhaps the greatest tribute to the Sokols came from the late Czech President, Thomas Masaryk: "I underestimated the international activities of the Sokols, until I lived in foreign lands when I soon found that in many cases the only thing that was known about us was that we had the Sokols who conducted the magnificent Slets". Hence the story of the Sokols is the story of the Czech nation.

An unusual piece offered by the American Sokol was the album page shown below. It was printed by our own member, George C. Kobylka, for the American Sokol on its 50th anniversary, September 17, 1961. Note the three sketches at the top, and the four United States stamps at the bottom, cancelled on the anniversary date. The border ribbons are in red and blue against the white album page (these are Czechoslovakia's national colors, as well as our own).

Q. I am interested in knowing the quantities printed of the Far Eastern Championship commemorative set, issued in 1934 by the Philippine Islands. I cannot find this information in Landmans Catalogue, nor in Sport und Briefmarken by Schmidt and Schneider.

A. The quantities are as follows: 2¢ -- 1,000,000; 6¢ -- 800,000; 16¢ -- 500,000. These statistics were officially supplied by the Director of the Bureau of Posts, and appeared in the December 14, 1940, issue of Weekly Philatelic Gossip.

Q. Have any stamps ever been issued showing a roller coaster?

A. Yes. This activity is depicted in the lower right hand corner of Russia C72, the 40 kopeks value of the 1937 set commemorating the Jubilee Aviation Exhibition at Moscow.

Q. Where can I find detailed information about the various Olympic Games cancellations, including illustrations of the different types?

A. A recently published handbook is now available, entitled Die Poststempel der Welt zu den Olympischen Spielen, 1906-1960. Send an International Money Order for $1.50 or six Deutschemarks to Gunter Schneider, 6719 Eisenberg/Bayern, Postfach 126, West Germany. It will take about four weeks to receive your copy.

Q. What quantity was issued of France's recent commemorative honoring skiing on Mount Dore?

A. Sales figures are 10,300,000 copies printed and sold.

* * * * *

Q. The 6¢ value of Liberia's 1956 Olympic Games set (Scott #359) depicts the famous Discobolus after a copy of this statue by Myron, according to Sport und Briefmarken. Is this so?

A. The official release of the Liberian Post Office Department states that this is a statue by Rodin, the famous French sculptor.

Q. None of the catalogues of sports stamps lists the quantity issued of Monaco's 1955 commemorative for the Auto Rally, Scott #333. I also note that it is rapidly rising in price, and I wonder if this is because only a small quantity was printed.

A. Only 43,600 copies were sold. For comparison's sake, remember that 52,000 copies were issued of the top value of Greece's 1896 Olympic Games set (Scott #128). Thought-provoking, isn't it?

Q. Where can I get an exchange partner in Scandinavia? I wish to exchange stamps, FDCs, covers, etc?

A. Write to Axel Miltander, Bevaringsgatan 11, Gothenburg, Sweden. Mr. Miltander the philatelic editor for the Goteborgs-Posten, Sweden's second largest newspaper. He will be glad to help you, but be sure to include an International Reply Coupon for return postage. Of course, Mr. Miltander cannot undertake any responsibility for your subsequent dealings with exchange partners. But you have nothing to lose -- Scandinavians are wonderful people!

TIP OF THE MONTH: Portugal 851-54. This attractive set of four multi-colored stamps was issued in 1960 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Aero Club of Portugal. Actually, the anniversary date occurred in 1959, but the stamps were a year late in appearing. Face value is less than 25¢, but this set is already selling readily at prices ranging from $1.20 upwards. Only 300,000 sets exist, so don't delay.

Afghanistan. On August 28th, this country issued a set of three stamps honoring the 44th anniversary of independence, and strangely enough, this country chose to depict a column of athletes carrying their nation's flag. A sports item, of course, and fully written up on page 13 of the November issue of JSP. This set is readily available for about 35¢, and is very attractive in appearance, having been printed by the Austrian government. The joker? Only 10,000 sets exist!

Romania 1952 surcharges. On January 28, 1952, the government of Romania initiated a currency reform, and all postage stamps were immediately demonitized. Existing stocks of stamps were surcharged, including those stamps with a sports motif, at the National Printery in Bucharest. The quantities of stamps surcharged have never been revealed, but one thing is certain -- #845 and 847-48 were issued in minute quantities, and are extremely scarce. Don't overlook #841A-C, a set of three stamps depicting the Pioneers, and if you include early sports flights, don't overlook #842-44. These items are rarer than hen's teeth, and the various catalogue quotations are utterly laughable. These stamps were scarce shortly after their issuance, and your editor spent some time in 1954 going from one dealer to another, picking up a few stamps here, a few there, etc -- even the biggest dealers, like Frank Warner and General Stamp Company, were unable to supply more than a few of these items. Pay whatever your dealer asks and rejoice -- you're in select company, indeed, if you can boast of having these stamps.

Lebanon. The Bridge Championships of Europe were held in Beirut, Lebanon, in the early part of September, 1962, and were commemorated with a snazzy-looking pair of stamps. If playing cards is considered a sport by you, then this item is your dish of tea -- only 30,000 sets were issued, and after the Europa specialists have taken their quota, and a certain quantity is used for commercial postage, how many are left for sports collectors? You figure it out!

TRACHTENBERG'S CATALOG - A REVIEW

The 1963 edition of this dandy catalog has just been issued, and is offered in the advertisement on the left. It has many wonderful features: pocket-size (only 4 1/4 x 5 1/4 inches), absolutely up-to-date, lists all stamps in chronological order, gives the Yvert Catalog numbers, and lists the quantities issued (including many stamps whose quantities are not listed elsewhere).

Best of all, this publication is more than a catalogue -- it's a price-list, so each stamp listed herein can be ordered from Henri Trachtenberg at the price noted in this catalogue! This means that the prices are realistic, although some of the rarest sports stamps seem a little over-priced -- but only because prices in America have not yet caught up with those prevailing in Europe.

Written in French, of course, but this isn't much of a barrier -- if you studied French in high school, you're all set to extract the full value from this catalog, which lists prices only for mint stamps.

Available direct from France for 75¢, but for your convenience in ordering, orders and remittances may be sent to Larry McMillan, 3261 Los Coyotes Blvd., Long Beach 8, California. This latter plan is recommended, due to the high cost of purchasing International Money Orders and other forms of foreign remittances.

- Fred Farr -

There's no law against collecting trash, but why do it when there's plenty of genuine material?

Your editor has always had an affinity for commercially used covers -- those which have done postal duty. Most collectors shun any cover except those snazzy jobs which wouldn't be found dead in a mail box! You've seen them many times -- undressed, pristine condition, stamps perfectly cancelled. You can have them; I want the real McCoy!

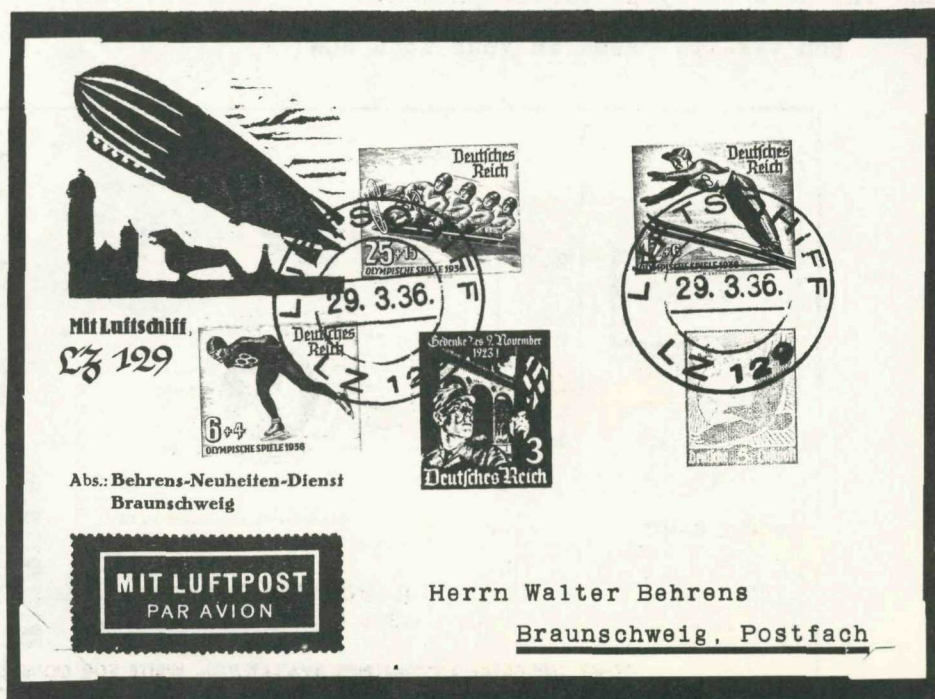

Mr. F. Quentin Farr,
19 Hillside Road,
Elizabeth 3, New Jersey,
Etats Unis d'Amerique.

Unfortunately, many dealers are unable to supply me with genuinely used covers, although the cancelled-to-order trash is a dime a dozen; just come to the stamp shop with your wallet brimming with cash, and your "Friendly Dealer" will be glad to supply all the made-to-order FDCs your little heart wants. Your heart, not mine! Because most dealers are unable to supply what I want, I am often forced to resort to buying two mint sets -- one for my album pages, and one to be pasted on envelopes and sent to the country of origin for cancellation. These foreign governments don't mind taking my money for the stamps, so they may as well do some work for the money!

Illustrated above is a commercially used cover with the complete set of the 1960 Olympic Games issue from Ruanda-Urundi. Just prior to the independence of this territory on July first, 1962, your editor sent this cover to the postmaster in Usumbura, with a request that he cancel it and return it to the sender. A packet of about 30 used commemorative stamps was also enclosed, as a token of the sender's good will. The letter was written in French, the native language employed by the Belgian postal administration in this territory, and contained the writer's good wishes to the people of Ruanda-Urundi on their forth-coming independence. Airmail postage to Africa cost the writer 50¢, and the mint set used on the cover cost $1.50, and two International Reply Coupons were enclosed in case the cover was overweight -- but the results justified the costs!

An unusual cover of a different sort is illustrated at the right. In 1936, Germany's giant new dirigible LZ-129, the "Hindenburg," was completed and underwent her test flight prior to entering commercial service. This maiden flight was commemorated by a special cancellation, illustrated herewith. Note that this cover is franked with the 1936 Olympic Games set, neatly cancelled with the special cancellation provided for covers mailed on board the dirigible.

You can vastly increase the human-interest value of your collection if you will purchase only genuine covers, especially those which bear evidence of unusual franking or usage.

SPI's second annual auction will take place in the spring of 1963. The number of lots entered will determine the number of sections required for the auction and thus the dates. Rules pertaining to donors and consignors are as follows:
