VOLUME 1

THE ETHIOPIAN VICTORY IN THE 1960 OLYMPIC MARATHON

- Irwin Bloomfield -

On January 14, 1962, Ethiopia issued a set of five sports stamps commemorating the Games of Ethiopia and the 1960 Olympic Games. The 10% green and red depicts the time-honored game of "Guks" (warlike horsemanship) with two colorful shielded horsemen engaged in the chase preceding the duel. The 15% cream rose and brown shows the game "Ganna" (Ethiopian hockey) with ill-protected players using a hard wooden ball in a contest closely akin to soccer. The 20% red and blue stamp shows cycling, which recently had a resurgence in Ethiopia with entries of teams in the 1956 and 1960 Olympic Games. The 30% blue and violet commemorates the Third Africa Football Cup (soccer), an event in which nine African nations vied for honors in Addis Ababa, January 14-22, 1962. The newly-completed Haile Selassie I Stadium was used for this competition.

However, our attention is focused on the 50% gold and green stamp depicting the following is a condensed paraphrasing.

Bekele Abebe, merathon champion of the 1960 Rome Olympics--hailed as the price of the African continent he represents, as well as of his native Ethiopia, and the first African athlete selected for philatelic recognition. The entire series was illustrated by the artist Sereke Yemane Berhan and was printed in sheets of 50 stamps. (A registered first day cover of this set is shown to the left.)

The marathon in the 1960 Olympics, over hostoric terrain, was one of the most exciting of these fierce foot races. A thrilling description of the race is given in the book, "Olympic Games 1960", of which

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Your temporary editor wishes to thank those few members who have sent in material of one type or another for use in "JSP". Now let's have this trickle become a veritable deluge. It is the only way in which we can have a lively, interesting, and educational publication. F. C. Box 18 at West Point, New York, is big enough to handle a lot of incoming mail--of the right type.

I have been toying with the possibility of a question-and-answer column as a regular feature of "JSP". It is my idea not to use cut-and-dried questions and answers, but rather those sticklers which are actually puzzling our members. Questions would be published regularly and answers just as soon thereafter as members send in the needed information.

It goes without saying that no question would be regarded as too simple and none as too difficult for use. It also goes without saying that such a column will not function without a steady flow of questions and then the whole-hearted cooperation of all our members in finding the answers for publication. This must be a self-propelling project with the editor serving only as a channel, preparing first the questions and then the answers, for publication in "JSP". If you have questions and would like help in getting them solved, start a barrage now.

More than ever, in this in-between-editors stage, we would like your impressions of "JSP". Both complaints and compliments are welcome, but especially we need your suggestions for improvement of our periodical. If "JSP" isn't giving you what you want and you remain silent about it, you have only yourself to blame.

By now SPI's special issue of "Linn's Weekly Stamp News" is history. Copies were sent to all SPI members through the courtesy of the publishers. I hope you enjoyed the material thoroughly and that it will attract many of the non-SPI-member sports collectors throughout the world. Those of you who found the articles just a little non-technical must realize that this was popular-interest material pitched at the average stamp collector, not just sports collector.

Our special issue was marred only by the three very strange classified advertisements inserted by ATA. If you did not notice these unique productions, check your copy of the special issue under "Publications", "Societies", and "Topicals". I suggest that you study them carefully, noting their bizarre make-up and phrasing, and then draw your own conclusions. Those of you who belong to ATA may wish to submit a complaint to the administration of that organization.

Our thanks are due to George W. Linn and to Editor Carl P. Rueth for making this issue possible. We have reserved the February, 1965, issue of "Linn's" for SPI; frankly, it was the first unreserved one available. At any rate, it is not too soon to begin planning for that special issue. For a starter, who wants to edit it?

As of this date (February 9th), SPI is still looking for a replacement for Fred Farr as editor of "JSP". And we still lack a number of regular contributors to our periodical as well as technical assistants to aid in its preparation and publication. In short, we need help and we need it now.

Manager Bill Stoms reports a rather lukewarm interest in our forthcoming spring auction. I have consoled him by citing past auctions; things have slways speeded up as the deadline approached. I hope that such will be the case this year. Don't let us down. There is still a chance to rush your donations and consignments in to Bill.

The directors are planning to issue a membership directory in the near future. It will contain a listing of the current members with their addresses and an indication of their collecting preferences in the field of sports. This directory will also include the constitution of SPI and a complete statement of the organization-officers, directors, and committees. Also to be announced for the first time will be a panel of translators to help you with your foreign correspondence and source material. We hope to get this to you this spring.

The directors are also planning a sports and recreation check-list. Under the present plans this check-list will include all sports and recreation stamps using a rather broad set of definitions. It will be prepared alphabetically by country and will have space to record the holdings of each individual. There is some thought that it will be printed in pocket size. Considerable progress has already been made in assembling the material for this check-list.

CARL A. MAGERL

408 PENNSYLVANIA AVE.

NORTH WALES, PENNA.

Only a few hundred people have gathered to watch the start of the marathon race at the foot of the Campidoglio. Most of them seem to be photographers. The time is half-past five in the evening.

Suddenly the runners--about seventy of them--burst forth from the melee. Two of these men have the same name, Abebe. They belong to the little team of six cyclists and six track and field athletes sent to Rome from Ethiopia. Both Abebes are wearing orange shorts and green shirts. But even if there had been half a dozen Abebes, no one would have paid particular attention. The Swedish trainer has said they are first class runners, but for most onlookers they are just two men with tongue-twisting names--Bekele Abebe and Waquira Abebe.

Bekele, perhaps, is not completely inconspicuous. He is a short, black, rather handsome lad, and runs barefoot. They say he is twenty-eight and a professional soldier, serving in the bodyguard of the Abyssinian Emperor. He runs just for fun, Bekele declares.

The 42-kilometer marathon course starts along the Via Fori Imperiali up to the Colosseum the then past Arch of Constantine (shown on the L60 of Italy's 1959 pre-Olympic set) Five hundred yards later the Baths of Caracalla appear (L35 value of the same set). From there the course follows the broad asphalt highway. the Via Christo-Colombo, foro with modern apartment houses on the left and relics of ancient city walls on the right. (Note the firstday cover of the Italian pre-0-lympic set on the right.)

The little Abyssinian Bekele Abebe races along with his thin, sinewy legs like some long-distance runner of Biblical times, nimble as a deer. At the 10-kilometer mark he is already in the leading group. After 20 milometers the group consists of him and the Moroccan Rhadi alone. The two run in rhythm like a four-legged tandem. At successive 5-kilometer intervals radio announcers throughout the world repeat the same news: "Rhadi leading, Abebe making the same time". For 20 kilometers they both nave taken 62 minutes and 39 seconds. Then at 35 and again at 37 kilometers the order is reversed. "Abebe leading, Rhadi the same time".

At 40 kilometers the position is still the same, but at this point the Abyssinian decides to vary things. He leaves the Moroccan farther and farther behind him, until at 41 kilometers there is a gap of about 50 yards. The little musstachioed, brown-skinned man is running so lightly that his feel scarcely seem to touch the ground. Most of the competition has taken some refreshment along the course at a snack bar which sells blueberry juice, glucose, and similar fortifiers. But Abebe refuses any nourishment; he is used to running, thirsty or not. "We Abyssinians are a poor people with no mechanical transport", he explains later. "so we run everywhere on foot. Forty kilometers are nothing to me."

Meanwhile dusk has fallen. The course now runs along the Via Appia Antica, a road laid down by the Censor Appius Claudius in the year 312 B. C. Along this stretch there is a bersagliere soldier posted at every ten yards with a flaming torch in his hand to light the way. The scene is a fantastic one, and seems almost unearthly as the silhouettes of the marathon runners flash by.

The wheels of time seem to have been turned back by twenty centuries. Dimly the runners can discern the old memorials with weathered inscriptions, fragments of ancient walls, carved gravestones, and headless statues. But they can spare no thoughts for these, for they must summon the last resources of their bodily energy.

It has long been apparent that the decision lies between two men alone, the Africans Abebe and Rhadi. The contest for third place between the Russian, Popev, and the New Zealander, Magee, has ended in the latter's favor. Despite a grim struggle Popov has gotten slower and slower and lost 40 seconds to Magee at the 37-kilometer snack bar.

The last stretch of this course becomes a triumphant climax for Abebe and Rhadi. The Via Appia Antica is lined with dense crowds on either side. Women are to be seen kneeling and crossing themselves as the runners flit past wraith-like.

Cover with Special Marathon Cancellation and Photographs of Famous Sights in Rome

A broad avenue leads in a gentle curve up to the Arch of Constantine, where the winning post stands. The wonderfully light-stepping Abyssinian is caught in the searchlights. He has achieved a new and splendid Olympic record time. Rhadi arrives 25.4 seconds later. Then comes Magee, the New Zealander. The race over, Bekele Abebe is as fresh as if he had just come from an evening stroll. Someone brings him a blanket, but he waves it away. Then the tension begins to subside and he laughs. Only after a while does he calm down and his laughter gives way to tears that stream down his cheeks. It is the first time in Olympic history that an Ethiopian has won a gold medal. Bekele's brother, Waquira, comes in 7th.

REVIEWS

Brun's "Catalogue of Sports and Scout Stamps"

This 124-page catalogue is one of a series of four topical listings prepared by Clement Brun; others cover flora, fauna, and the United Nations. All are based on the 1963 edition of the Yvert and Tellier catalogue.

REVIEWS (Cont'd)

It is well illustrated, but includes only one example of each type of stamp even though the basic type may have several different major vignettes. It lists both mint and used values; but eliminates variations in printing, color, perforation, and watermark. Sports stamps and scout stamps are in separate sections.

Although written in French, the catalogue can be followed rather easily. To ease the strain, the sales representatives in this country have prepared a translation of the forward of the catalogue, French-English listings of country names and of colors, and a guide to conversion of French prices to the American dollar.

Sports stamps are included only if the individual stamp shows the sports as a main subject or if it was issued in direct commemoration of some sports event. A sport must be competitive in nature, not merely physical exercise, to justify inclusion. All sports listed were involved in the 1960 Olympic Games or are sponsored by the "National Sports Committees". Thus horse races (covered in the fauna catalogue), air sports, and children's games are excluded. Similar criteria apply to scout stamps.

The Communist-dominated countries of North Korea, North Viet-Nam, Mongolia, and Red China are included.

Although the definitions of sports and scout stamps may be too narrow to satisfy some collectors, this catalogue is an interesting and useful supplementary source of information. It performs a special service in providing the Yvert catalogue numbers and in covering the Communist countries omitted by the catalogues published in this country.

Brun's "Catalogue de Timbres-Poste Sports et Scoutisme" is available from Enholm's for Stamps, 825 Hayes Ave., Racine, Wisconsin. The price is, surprisingly enough, just one dollar. It is a bargain.

COLLECTING AUTOGRAPHS ON FIRST DAY COVERS

- Herman J. Cohen -

In the specialized field of collecting autographs on first day covers, many exciting and provocative events are experienced in the process of acquiring philatelic masterpieces. It could be the signature of a president or a king. If and when you become absorbed in this particular field of collecting, be prepared to do a great deal of research. Planning and preparation are the foundation of a successful autograph collection.

It takes time, patience, initiative, and resourcefulness to complete a single transaction. First day covers must match the personality. Each cover must have dignity and meaning. The cachet should be in keeping with the event to be documented. Valid addresses are often difficult to obtain. Research and repeated letter writing are necessary to ascertain the correct destination for sending your request to the individual you wish to autograph your cover.

Letters must never be demanding. In most instances the person who is requested to sign a cover is most accommodating, providing you do not ask for an unreasonable request. Most important personalities realize the significance of leaving their written impression as a message for posterity.

It has been the author's good fortune to have had first-hand experience in securing the autographs of many Olympic medal winners. An exciting experience occurred while attending a meeting of former Olympic competitors at the Helms Athletic Foundation in Los Angeles. Many of the outstanding athletes were only too happy to autograph first day covers of the 1960 Winter Olympics. During the weeks that followed I was able to add the autographs of Bob Mathias, Johnny Weissmuller, Rafer Johnson, Perry Q'Brien, Dr. Sammy Lee, and Hal and Olga Connolly.

These covers were enhanced by typing the name of the Olympian under his signature and the event in which he or she was a medal winner. A prize possession is a first day cover autographed by Johnny Weissmuller, a winner of five gold medals in the 1924 and 1928 Olympic Games.

It is of prime importance that you plan and prepare well in advance just what your goal is to be. You may wish to specialize in the field of science or sports. The rewards for your painstaking efforts are satisfaction and a most unusual collection of interminable value.

The torch of the XVII Games. The following is a letter from Captain Carlo Condarelli of Catania, Italy. It should prove of much interest to those of you who like to be "in" on developments. Certainly Carlo was.

"I have read with much interest about the Olympic Torch in the "Journal of Sports Philately" and I congratulate you on the accuracy of the news and the chronology of the events. I would like to give some additional and specialized information regarding the philatelic commemoration of the Torch Relay connected with the Games of the XVII Olympiad, a metter in which I was fortunate enough to participate.

"I think it's useful for philatelists to know the whole procedure in every philatelic commemoration. For the first time in the history of the modern Games, sports philately was officially included in the whole of the Clympic organization in Rome in 1960 with the help of the General Secretary, Dr. Marcello Garroni. The Philatelic Assistance Service, recently organized, prearranged a number of devices by which we wanted to show the development of the Games in each stage, and so to constitute a complete collection. You have in your collections many of the items such as the various cards, folders, covers, and cancellations. The stages which required the most careful organization have been (1) the lighting of the Torch in Olympia, (2) the carrying of the Torch on the school ship "Amerigo Vespucci", and (3) the Torch Relay from Syracuse to Rome.

Withdrawing the Mail from the Helicopter

"The PAS for these particular commemorations was arranged: an aerogramme commemorating the lighting of the Torch in Olympia, and a folder commemorating with a summary the voyage of the "Amerigo Vespucci" with the itinerary of the relay.

"The realization of these two items required the collaboration of the following: (1) General Postmaster of Athens, (2) Military Air Force, (3) Italian Navy, (4) Italian Navy Commandant of Messina, (5) the Command of the 1st Group Helicopter Group of Catania, and (6) the Command of the ship "Amerigo Vespucci".

"The aerogramme, printed in Rome and sent to the Chief Postmaster of Athens for the application of the Olympic commemoration series and special cancellations in Olympia. Afterwards the aerogramme was consigned by a special charter to the airport of Athens on board the Italian Air Force aircraft which provided the transportation for the Italian Olympic Delegation to the ceremony of the lighting of the wonderful Torch. The aerogramme arrived in Rome on the night of August 13th and on the morning of the 14th was made subject to the special cancellation of arrival at the Olympic Postal Office in the Olympic Village.

"The folder commemorating the transport of the Torch on the "Amerigo Vespucci" and the Torch Relay from Syracuse to Rome was planned in Rome and completed in the Board Commissary of the ship at the Piraeus. A special cancellation was applied showing a special Board Mail strike.

"The first contact with the "Amerigo Vespucci" coming from Greece and carrying the Torch was effected in the Mediterranean Sea about 25 miles from Syracuse by a helicopter of the 1st Group of the Navy, piloted by Commander Negro. As manager of the Philatelic Department of the Clympic Games I was on board and took the philatelic mail prepared in Greece for the torch lighting and for the Torch Relay on Italian territory. The event was commemorated by a special cancellation. Afterwards the folder was marked with the special cancellation of Naples and Castelgandolfo, seats of the Clympic Games crossed by the Torch Relay. This is the real story of the special services that required two years in preparation. Such a philatelic project has many difficulties. It has been the most touching moment of my life and I'll always have a wonderful memory of it.

"The photo shows the small shallop withdrawing the mail from the helicopter. The photo bears a L5 stamp of the commemorative series with special cancel and also another cancel in upper left hand corner but it is doubtful if the cancels will reprint plainly."

(Editorial note: We have made rough drawings of the cancellations appearing on the photo and inserted them near the original cancellations. Carlo did some splendid work with the Philatelic Assistance Office during preparation for the XVII Games. He is one of the most prolific writers on philatelic subjects relating to sports and has a remarkable collection of the most highly prized "special" Olympic pieces. Ever ready to help the sports cause, Carlo has frequently sent specialized items to members of the staff of "JSP". We look forward to articles by Carlo Condarelli in the future. T.L.L.)

Computer processing of results of 1964 Olympic Games. The Tokyo Organizing Committee has announced that it will use a computer to provide up-to-the-minute information to spectators, athletes, officials, and news media on as many as 24 events at a time during the 1964 Olympic Summer Games.

Using communication devices to link the computer with widely separated events, some as far as 40 miles from the Clympic Data Center; the system will collect, process, and transmit to all Olympic areas the results and standings of each event as it takes place.

During the fifteen-day period (Oct. 10-24), the equivalent of twenty world championship contests will be held in such sports as track and field, swimming, diving, rowing, yachting, gymnastics, equestrian events, etc. Three hundred and forty gold medals will be awarded. Additions to the program, including judo, women's volleyball, and a women's pentathlon, will make the 1964 Summer Games the largest ever held. More than 8,000 athletes from 103 member nations of the International Clympic Committee are expected to participate.

Masaji Tabata, Secretary-General of the Games, said: "Athletes, spectators, and newsmen have always wanted up-to-the-minute results of all events. With the growth in size and complexity of the Games the job has become more difficult. The most practical way to solve the problem is with a computer system.

Mr. Tabata said the selection of International Business Machines to provide the service is based on the company's participation in the VIII Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, Calif., in 1960 and its experience in preparing for the IX Olympic Winter Games which will be held in Innsbruck, Austria, in February, 1964.

In order for the tele-processing system to collect the times, distances, judges' scoring, and other results; data terminals will be located within each of the 24 stadia which will make up the Olympic complex.

As each result is recorded at the site of the event, it will be keyed into a terminal and transmitted to the data center where a computer will record the result and send a verification back to the sender--all in a few seconds. The system also will make any necessary computations, compare the result to other perofrmances, determine if it is a new record, and print out standings, when appropriate. In less than thirty seconds, the information will be flashed to a scoreboard at the event site.

When an event is completed, the computer will print the final results and transmit the information to high-speed printers at twelve key locations where it will be printed and distributed. These results also will be displayed on the scoreboards and will be transmitted via teletype to Japanese and international news agencies. H.T.

Olympic fund raising seals. As promised, the third set of fund raising seals of the Japanese Organizing Committee is reproduced here:

Does this arouse any memories? The Olympic Village for the 1964 Olympic Games will be at Asake, once known as Camp Drake to the American security forces in Japan.

NEWS OF OUR AFFILIATES

Sports Philatelists of the Philipines. President Floro Policarpio reports a great deal of action out there in the Pacific. The last minute cancellation of the IV World Basketball Championship (over the granting of visas to the Jugoslavian team) forced SPOP to give up its sponsorship of a basketball commemorative issue and to cancel its First National Sports Philatelic Exhibition (NASPEX), planned for early December, 1962.

Dismayed but not disheartened, SPOP then requested the use of a postal slogan by the Bureau of Posts on January 1st on the occasion of the centenary of the birth of Baron de Coubertin. Their Postmaster General was cooperative, but arrangements could not be completed on such short notice.
