As chairman of SPI's membership committee, my major duty has been the coordination of all our membership efforts. The final step of our solicitation routine has been the dispatching of a follow-up letter with a return postal card enclosed to stimulate the prospect into letting us know his feeling about our organization. Not all prospects have been gracious enough to answer, but something over fifty per cent have responded one war or the other.

A very alarming number of prospects has indicated that they are not interested in sports collecting (including olympics and recreation) because of the large number of sports-related emissions appearing every year andor because of the frequent very debatable specialty items appearing with these regular emissions. This group of abstainers includes individuals who had exhibited some interest in sports philately (they were recommended by a friend or they sent for a sample copy of "JSP"), individuals who have collected sports only for a very short time and then have lost interest, previous members of the old Sports Units, and even veteran collectors who have finally given up in disgust.

Typical of their comments concerning the large number of sports-related emissions these days are "pointless", "no real significance", "sheer garbage", "mere labels", "too much Commie junk", etc. The specialty items to which they object so strenuously include imperforate sets (possibly with colors changed from the perforate set), perforate souvenir sheets, and imperforate souvenir sheets. Frequently this latter group is artificially controlled through blocked issues, low quantities printed, tie-in sales deals, monopolies with favorite dealers, questionable contracts with agencies, etc.

There seems to be little doubt that sizeable numbers of sports collectors and potential sports collectors are becoming disenchanted with these aspects of our favorite hobby, but just how serious a threat are these quantities of sports-related emissions and these extra specialty items?

Some six or eight months ago William Wylie, editor of "Western Stamp Collector", wrote an interesting editorial entitled "Produced for Collectors". In this editorial Mr. Wylie made the point that we have all grown accustomed to more postal emissions than really needed to meet the needs of the postal service, that we actually look forward to extra emissions, and that we would be disappointed if they were not forthcoming. As a matter of fact, there likely would be no topical collecting as we know it today if no country exceeded its basic needs for postal service. Editor Wylie goes on to point out that the danger is a relative matter of degree--the quantity and type of these extra emissions. He concludes by saying that this desire for extra emissions creates a potentially dangerous situation, one which collectors will have to control by setting up standards and ignoring philatelic material which does not measure up to these standards.

Elsewhere in this issue of "JSP" is the 1962 supplement to my "Check-List of Sports and Recreation". Out of simple interest to know just what is being issued, a rough anal-

EDITORIAL COMMENT

In addition to its popular "regulars" and its special one-issue features, this issue of "JSP" contains two check-lists of considerable contrast. There is the first installment of our alphabetical-by-country compiled by Barbara T. Williams and her cohorts in California and Arizona. This is a valuable aid to all sports philatelists and will keep many of you occupied for months to come. But it must be used with caution; you, the collector, must check out the various entries and select those which meet the criteria for your own personal collection. No one, including Mrs. Williams, advocates that any individual include every item in her check-iist in his coliection.

The second check-list should interest those who do their sports collecting by subtopic within sports. This is the 1962 supplement to your editor's "Check-list of Sports and Recreation". If any of you are interested in obtaining copies of the original checklist and the 1960 and 1961 supplements, contact your editor for information.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Harold Greenbaum (SPI 231), 1025 Rosedale Road, Valley Stream, N. Y.: I want to sell or trade my mint duplicates for sets of equal value that I need. I have Belgium B480-84 and B482a, Jugoslavia B26-31, Iithuania 47-50, Monaco 295-300 and C36-9, Peru 78-81, and many more. What do you have?
(Send remittance at $2 \notin$ per word and copy to Bob Bruce, Box 18, West Point, N. Y.)

Because of the timing of the mailing of "JSP" and the deadline of June lst for bids on our spring auction, this is the last reminder. Although the number of higher-priced lots is not as great, perhaps, as in some of our previous auctions; still there is a wide range of attractive material. Many of you should find a number of items which you need for your collections. Study the catalogue carefully; then happy bidding!

On June lst Helen Turner of Bremerton, Wash., will take over the chairmanship of our membership committee. This position involves coordination of all our membership efforts, including initial solicitation of prospects, mailing of sample conies of "JSP" to prospects, and follow-up on previously solicitated prospects. SPI passed the 450 -member mark just before the end of March; now the goal is 500. But the pace is slowing down a bit and the back-log of prospects is nearly exhausted, so Helen's committee has its work cut our for it. We wish them continued success in their endeavors.

Your president is delighted that he will be relieved of the responsibility of membership coordination. This duty, the presidency, and now the editorship have proven too much; the pace could not be continued. Although the directors still look hopefully for a volunteer to step forward for the editorship, the present temporary editor is growing resigned to his fate. He promises to do his best, but he must have yet more help with copy.

Those of you who read "Linn's" regularly must have noticed the "kick" on "golf on stamps" on which the senior editor, George W. Linn, has gone in three issues early in April. First he wrote about a memorial card prepared for the Canada Cup competition in July of 1960 in Ireland. In the next issue he editorialized concerning golf cancellations and stamps and asked for information on the latter. In the next issue he announced that a new golf stamp (France 1027) had been discovered; this stamp features a beach, but clearly depicts a golf bag and clubs to the left side of the stamp. Of course this issue has been well known to many sports collectors since its appearance in September, 1962, but we are delighted that Mr. Linn has taken so ardent an interest in golfing stamps.

SPI rose eagerly to the challenge and furnished Mr. Iinn with information on three stamps either featuring golf or referring to golf in some detail. Of course his copy is prepared several weeks in advance, so we will have to wait to discover how many sports collectors (and SPI members) responded to his request for information.

NEWS OF OUR AFFILIATES

Sports collectors in northern California. Dave Fogel and Merv Hertzberg are planning an exploratory meeting at the home of the former (1156 Walnut St., Berkeley 7, Calif.) on Friday, May 17 th , at $8: 30 \mathrm{P}$. M. It is their hope to form a permanent organization of sports collectors residing in this general area. All SPI members within a reasonable tra* veling distance should try to make this meeting. Face-to-face meetings are so superior to correspondence. So come and bring your sports-collector friends and your potential sports-collector friends.

Sports Philatelists of the Philippine丹. They're at it again! These guys really get things done! SPOP is now sponsoring a special sport slogan cancellation in connection with the 1963 Tour of Iuzon (bicycle). The Tour of Luzon is held annually; this year it covers approximately 2250 kilometers over eighteen days ending in Rizal Memorial Stadium in Manila. The following tentative cancellation is expected to be used from April $2 l s t$ to May 5th:

SPOP's next project is the promotion of a series of commemoratives depicting native sports in the Philippines. These would coincide with, and commemorate, the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo.

4 WHEN IT RAINS, IT POURS--WILL SPORTS PHILATELY KILL ITSELF? (Cont'd)
ysis of these 1962 issues has been made. Note that this list includes only those stamps which one individual has chosen for his own collection. Others may find his criteria too broad or too narrow. Note also that no imperforates (unless catalogued by Scott) have been included; thus that questionable category does not even enter into this analysis. And note still further that the compiler makes no claim to completeness in his listings nor to absolute accuracy in his analysis. It does offer one man's analysis of the situation as covered by Scott's catalogue (with one exception).

I have chosen to divide the sports and recreation stamps of 1962 into nine categories as follows:

1. Legitimate commemoration--81. These include events truly appropriate of commemoration, where the issuing country was either the host country or closely related to the competition and where the commemorative set was of length appropriate to the importance of the event.
2. Illogical commemoration--95. These include events inappropriate of commemoration and events where the issuing country was not the host and may not even have been a participant. Did Mongolia need to commemorate the World Soccer Championship in Chile?
3. Repeated or excess commemoration--44. These include events where commemoration is repeated year after year for the same event without close ties to the competition and where sets of inappropriate length are issued. Jugoslavia hardly needed a set of eight items to commemorate the European Athletic Championships, an annual event.
(Author's note: Categories 2 and 3 are very closely related. The principal violators are the Iron Curtain countries. Yet we must realize that these items do usually commemorate a worthwhile sports event; the difficulty is usually one of degree and/or frequency. We must also realize that tremendous enthusiasm is engendered by the spectators for such events; in a sense American spectators are somewhat blase by comparison. The Iron Curtain governments use these and similar events to considerable psychological advantage in camouflaging the otherwise drab existence of many of their citizens.)
4. Inappropriate delayed or advanced commemoration--4. The Albanian publicity set (so-called) for the 1964 Olympic Games is the example here. The whole sequence of the Dominican Republic Olympic commemoratives were typical examples from previous years.
5. Non-commemorative singles or parts of sets which feature sports--33. These are single items or parts of sets or sports motifs incidental to the major design of a stamp. Cyprus 213 and France 1027 are good examples.
6. Non-commemorative sets obviously produced for the topical collector--57. These are obvious--the Portuguese Colonies sports sets of 1961-62, the mountaineering set of San Marino, the fishing set of Romania, etc. Essentially these are labels, nothing more.
7. Sports overprints on non-sports items--none.
8. Sports overprints on sports items--6
9. Non-sports overprints on sports items--11. Here the real significance of the set is lost through overprinting for other purposes; Haiti Cl96 and Cl97 are good examples.

Now for the damaging statistical summary. In this man's estimation only, the truly worthwhile commemoratives (Categories 1, 5, 7, and 8) totaled 120 or 36.1 per cent of the emissions of 1962. Conversely the undesirables and the unnecessaries totaled 211 or 63.9 per cent of the total. In short, we could have gotten along quite nicely with only approximately one-third of the sports stamps issued in 1962. And the 0lympic year is nearly upon us again! What figures will it produce when judged on similar criteria.

It isn't a pretty picture. But is it the whole picture? Some of you will argue that you enjoy collecting the colorful bits of paper from behind the Iron Curtain and from the emergent countries of Africa. They represent a variety of sports and round out your collection nicely, especially if your collection is formed by sports rather than alphabetically by country. As long as the face values of their emissions are kept under control and as long as reputable catalogues list them as legitimate issues, you will be glad to include them in your collection. Surprisingly enough, perhaps, I agree with you; all of these items are in my accumulation or will be in time. But how do you like the prospect of paying for a Republic of Guinea series which includes a loofr, $200 f r$, and $500 f r$ air mail and is presumably dedicated to national sports? (See this issue's "New Issue Calendar" for advance notice.) This set will make all of us think again; production figures have no appeared yet in the philatelic press.

Note that we have limited ourselves thus far to stamps only; we have not dealt with the damaging category of specialty items. Part Two of this series will continue this trend of thought in the June issue of "JSP".
(Editor's note: Although not too much controversial material has appeared in Part One of this serial, it is entirely possible that many toes will be stepped on pretty hard in the next two installments. Your editor would be delighted to hear from any of you, either supporting or opposing the author's position. In writing, please indicate if you do not want your opinions published for it is entirely possible that I may choose to print some of your letters, either in toto or in part. Please remember that material published in "JSP" represents the personal feeling of the author rather than any official stand on the part of SPI.)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
l. Cyprus 214 ( 50 m olive bistre and dark green) is described by Scott as depicting "Ruins of Gymnasium, Salamis". Actually it show a rectangle of remnants of pillars, clearly indicating the outline of a former building of some type. What was the gymnasium at Salamis? Does this stamp qualify as a sports stamp?
2. Hungary 1475A (lfo violet) shows the portrait of Andras Chazar. In the publicity releases on this stamp Chazar was described as a pioneer sportsman, in some way associated with the Siketek Sports Club which was founded in 1912 and whose emblem was to appear on the stamp. However, the December, 1961, issue of "Scott's Monthly Journal" describes Chazar as the "founder of Hungarian deaf-mute education". What is the accurate story here?
3. Late in 1962 Mexico issued as C274 an old airmail stamp, Cl98 (20p carmine and blue gray), with a different watermark. Both stamps are described by Scott as a "modern building". Yet some of the publicity releases for the new stamps have described it as a "gymnasium". Is the latter description accurate?
Answers: (Now up to our reader-members)
(Editor's note: My suggestions in the February issue of "JSP" that we start a question and answer column pulled exactly no responses. However, for filler in that same issue I included reproductions of two Turkish aviation seals with a request for information. The results were quite encouraging; I got the desired information from three members. I am prone to think that a question and answer column can be both educational and very helpful to individual members. Therefore, I have started the ball rolling with three questions concerning recent issues which have been puzzling me. I hope that they will produce the answers and also motivate a flood of questions for future issues. Don't be bashful. If you have a problem, send it in and let our members work it over. None is too simple and we hope that none is too hard!)

OLYMPIANA

Austria to issue Winter Olympic series. No doubt most of you notice in the April "New Issues Calendar" that the host country will issue a series of seven stamps honoring the coming Olympic winter Games. This set is now scheduled for appearance in October, 1963. R.M.B.

Austrian skiers dominate 0lympic rehearsal. 105 men and 69 girls from 21 countries, including all of Europe's aces, came to Innsbruck for a three-day dress rehearsal for the 1964 Olympic Winter Games. The purpose of this meet was to test the courses which will be used for the Winter Games next year and to see what improvements might be needed for the Olympic contests. By the end of the competition, held February 15-17, Austria's crack alpine skiers had swept the boards.

Austria's Gerhard Nenning won the combined title with a first in the men's slalom and a second in the downill competition. The women's combined championship went to Edith Zimmerman of Austria, who was first in slalom and eighth in the downill.

Rip McManus showed the best American performance by finishing 29th in the slalom with Rex Carson in 33 rd position. Although American ski officials are enthusiastic about the improvement of this country's best competitive skiers, it looks as though there is a long way to go to win an Olympic gold medal. R.M.B.

Ticket information on the Olympic Summer Games, Tokyo, Japan. This is rough! Admission tickets to the various olympic events will be sold to overseas visitors only if they hold confirmed space at hotels or ryokan (Japanese style inns) in the Tokyo area for the date on which the tickets are valid. Special hotel reservation certificates will be issued for this purpose to those holding space. Applications for hotel and ryokan reservations are being accepted now by individual hotels and inns.

The American Express Company has been designated as the sole United States ticket agency. The application period for tickets will be from April 1, 1963 through June 30 , 1964. Applications will be accepted after this period if any tickets are still available. However, no tickets will be sold after September l, 1954.

Further details regarding reservation procedures in Tokyo hotels and inns are contained in a circular "How to Reserve Hotel Accommodations", issued by the Bureau of Olympic Preparations of the Tolkyo Metropolitan Government.

It would appear that NOW is the time to act if you have even tentative plans of attending the Suminer Games in Tokyo. Don't say that we didn't warn you! R.M.B.

In preparing this check-list I have included all the items which could possibly be involved in this type of collection. Each individual should select or discard according to his personal wishes for his own collection. All items in the check-list are known to be included by one or more philatelists in his sports collection.

Olympic items are marked with one asterisk. This group includes not only stamps isSुued for the various Games, but also those showing Olympic athletes, officials, and the 0lympic medal. Scout items are marked with two asterisks. This group includes scouts, pioneers, and St. George, the patron saint of scouting. The many sheets not listed in Scott's catalogue have been marked "a", "b", etc. All these items actually exist, either according to my own knowledge or upon the verifdication of reputable collectors.

Space is provided after each item in the check-list for the individual to indicate his holdings--mint, used, and cover-and to make brief descriptive notes. Thus the compilation is truly a check-list.

I wish to thank the many collectors and dealers who have given of their time and effort. Without access to their files and collections the compilation of this check-list would have been impossible. B.T.N.
